

Correlation Between #VM and #Unhappy Customers

From the Plot, we can see that when VM number is less than 4, the number of unhappy customers decrease as the number of VM increases. However, when VM number reaches 4, the number of unhappy customers does not increase with number of VM. In order to make as many customers happy as possible and save resources at the same time, we should establish 4 servers when there is one client comes every second.